This curriculum unit can be used in a variety of ways. Each chapter of the novel study focuses on one or two chapters of The Littles and is comprised of five of the following different activities:

- Before You Read
- Vocabulary Building
- Comprehension Questions
- Language Activities
- Extension Activities

Links with the Common Core Standards (U.S.)

Many of the activities included in this curriculum unit are supported by the Common Core Standards. For instance the Reading Standards for Literature, Grade 5, makes reference to

- a) determining the meaning of words and phrases. . . including figurative language;
- b) explaining how a series of chapters fits together to provide the overall structure;
- c) compare and contrast two characters;
- d) determine how characters . . . respond to challenges;

A principal expectation of the unit is that students will develop their skills in reading, writing, listening and oral communication, as well as in reasoning and critical thinking. Students will also be expected to provide clear answers to questions and well-constructed explanations. It is critical as well that students be able to relate events and the feelings of characters to their own lives and experiences and describe their own interpretation of a particular passage.

A strength of the unit is that students can work on the activities at their own pace. Every activity need not be completed by all students. A portfolio cover is included (p.7) so that students may organize their work and keep it all in one place. A Student Checklist is also included (p.6) so that a record of completed work may be recorded.

Themes which may be taught in conjunction with the novel include courage, cats and mice, problem solving, dealing with change, personal growth.

This family, however, are slobs, and before long a myriad of mice are attracted to the messy house. Just when it seems that things couldn't get any worse, a cat arrives on the scene. Will the ingenuity of the Little family win the day or will they be driven out of the home they have known all their lives?

Chapters 1-2

Before you read the chapter:

The protagonist in most novels features the main character or “good guy”. One of the main protagonists in this novel is Tom Little, a very unusual ten-year-old boy who would not even come up to your knee. Think back on some of your favorite characters from past novels that you have read or movies you’ve seen. What do you think makes for an especially fascinating and unforgettable protagonist?

Language Activity

A. Exaggeration

Authors sometimes enjoy using a literary device called exaggeration. Exaggeration might be defined as stretching the truth to make something sound better or worse than it really is. Here is a statement that Uncle Pete makes in Chapter Two; “You have enough red yarn there, Granny to start a knitting factory.” Do you think this is an example of exaggeration. Why or why not?

B. Anagrams

An anagram is a word that is formed by changing the order of the letters of another word. For example, the letters in the word WAS can also form the word SAW. Follow these directions to form the anagrams:

a) read the clue in the right-hand column.

b) Using the word in the left-hand column move the letters around in any order, but you must use all the letters. All of the words in the left-hand column can be found in the first two chapters of The Littles.

Word	Anagram	Clue
lived		Satan.
secret		Builds.
last		Goes good on steak.
counter		Beat badly in a game.
reason		Married woman in Mexico.
owners		Fails to getter better.
stop		Mailbox task.

Extension Activities

A. Storyboard

A storyboard is a series of pictures that tell about an important event in a story. A storyboard can tell the story of only one scene – or the entire novel. Complete the storyboard below illustrating the events described in the first two chapters of our novel. You may wish to practice your drawings on a separate piece of paper.

1	2
3	4
5	6

B. Quatrain Poems

The quatrain is a popular form of rhymed verse. It is a poem of four lines, is usually light and humorous. The following quatrain is actually one verse of a longer poem called My Bored Cat by the famous poet, Atrocious Halitosis.

*They say a cat's the best of pets,
It doesn't need much care.
It's fussy and it's mostly bored,
And loves to sit and stare.*

Various rhyming schemes make up a quatrain poem. As you can see, the above four lines have a rhyming scheme of A – B – C – B. Other rhyming schemes include: AABB, AAAA, AABA, ABBA, ABBB, and AAAB.

Your task is to write your own quatrain poem. You may choose a rhyming scheme that fits with your own personal creation. The topic should have something to do with the themes established in the first two chapters of our novel.

The Quatrain Poem

Now create your own Quatrain Poem. Your poem must follow the format of a quatrain poem described above (and must rhyme).
