Suggestions and Expectations

This curriculum unit can be used in a variety of ways. Each chapter of the novel study focuses one or two chapters of The Trumpet of the Swan and is comprised of five of the following different activities:

- Before You Read
- Vocabulary Building
- Comprehension Questions
- Language Activities
- Extension Activities

Links with the Common Core Standards (U.S.)

Many of the activities included in this curriculum unit are supported by the Common Core Standards. For instance the Reading Standards for Literature, Grade 5, makes reference to

- a) determining the meaning of words and phrases. . . including figurative language;
- b) explaining how a series of chapters fits together to provide the overall structure;
- c) compare and contrast two characters;
- d) determine how characters . . . respond to challenges;
- e) drawing inferences from the text;
- f) determining a theme of a story . . . and many others.

A principal expectation of the unit is that students will develop their skills in reading, writing, listening and oral communication, as well as in reasoning and critical thinking. Students will also be expected to provide clear answers to questions and well-constructed explanations. It is critical as well that students be able to relate events and the feelings of characters to their own lives and experiences and describe their own interpretation of a particular passage.

A strength of the unit is that students can work on the activities at their own pace. Every activity need not be completed by all students. A portfolio cover is included (p.7) so that students may organize their work and keep it all in one place. A Student Checklist is also included (p.6) so that a record of completed work may be recorded.

Themes which may be taught in conjunction with the novel include the Trumpeter Swan, American music of the early 1900s, honesty, the importance of family, overcoming obstacles in life, the importance of hard work, courage and sacrifice, perseverance when facing difficult circumstances.

The Trumpet of the Swan

By E.B. White

Synopsis

Like the rest of his family, Louis is a trumpeter swan. But unlike his four brothers and sisters, Louis can't trumpet joyfully. In fact, he can't even make a sound. And since he can't trumpet his love, the beautiful swan Serena pays absolutely no attention to him.

Louis tries everything he can think of to win Serena's affection – he even goes to school to learn to read and write. But nothing seems to work. Then his father steals him a real brass trumpet. Is a musical instrument the key to winning Louis his love? (The publisher)

"We are lucky to have this book." - John Updike, The New York Times.

Author Biography

E. B. White

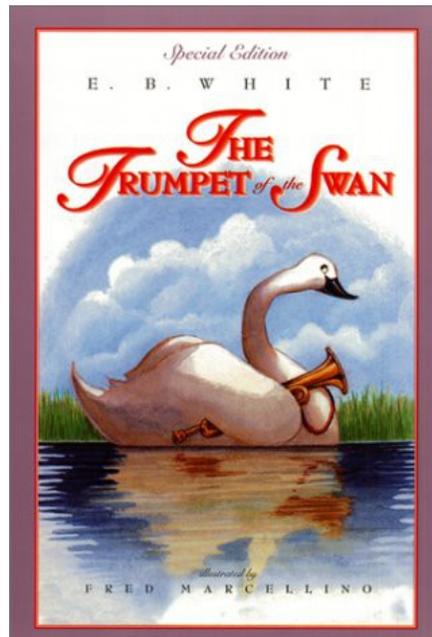

E. B. White, the author of such beloved classics as Charlotte's Web, Stuart Little, and The Trumpet of the Swan, was born in Mount Vernon, New York. He graduated from Cornell University in 1921 and wrote for The New Yorker magazine, then in its infancy. He died on October 1, 1985, and was survived by his son and three grandchildren.

He won countless awards, including the 1971 National Medal for Literature and the Laura Ingalls Wilder Award, which commended him for making a "substantial and lasting contribution to literature for children."

During his lifetime, many young readers asked Mr. White if his stories were true. In a letter written to be sent to his fans, he answered, "No, they are imaginary tales . . . But real life is only one kind of life—there is also the life of the imagination." [The Publisher]

Chapters 1-2

Before you read the chapter:

The protagonist in most novels features the main character or “good guy”. The protagonist of The Trumpet of the Swan (at least in Chapter One) is Sam Beaver, an eleven-year-old boy who is holidaying on a remote Canadian lake. Think back on some of your favorite characters from past novels you have read or movies you’ve seen. What do you think makes for an especially interesting protagonist?

Vocabulary:

Choose a word from the list to complete each sentence.

intention	cygnets	uppermost	investigated	cautiously
convenient	majestically	ideal	dignity	cob

1. The principal mustered up as much _____ as was possible for someone with rip in the seat of his pants.
2. The swan slipped _____ into the waters of the lake with one eye on the beaver swimming nearby.

3. Sam stepped into the brush and was astonished to see a nest of _____ at his feet.
4. I hope it is _____ for you to stop the taxi a block from my house.
5. The majestic _____ rose from the waters and spread its wing a full eight feet.
6. I know the circumstances aren't _____, but try your best.
7. The princess rose _____ from her throne and waved her wand over all before her.
8. Do you think the _____ of the intruder was for our good or harm?
9. Sherlock Holmes _____ the scene of the crime on the invitation of Inspector Cousteau.
10. Jonathan's missing brother was _____ in everyone's mind

Questions

1. What is the setting of Chapter One and Two?

2. Why might many people regard the following sentence as quite racist: Sam walked like an Indian ...?

3. What did Sam see on the wild little pond not too far from where he and his father were camped?

4. Why was Sam reluctant to tell his dad what he saw? Do you think this was a smart idea? Why or why not?

Good to Know - The Trumpeter Swan

The Trumpeter Swan is the largest extant species of waterfowl. The average weight of a male is about 12 kg (26 lb). The species has an upright posture and swims with a straight neck. Its bill measures about 12 cm (4.7 in), which is twice the length of the bill of a Canada Goose. They prefer to nest by large shallow ponds, with the largest number of breeding pairs found in Alaska. They feed primarily on aquatic plants while swimming.

5. A number of creatures from the Canadian wilderness are mentioned in these two chapters. Match each creature on the left with its proper description on the right.

Character
1 swan
2 red-winged blackbird
3 muskrat
4 fox
5 frog
6 chipmunk
7 raccoon
8 skunk
9 chickadee
10 Mallard duck

	Description
A	Has a reputation for being cunning.
B	Pepé Le Pew.
C	A striped rodent.
D	The heaviest bird native to North America
E	Sweet Canada, Canada, Canada.
F	Its name means “wild drake”.
G	Bandit-like.
H	Most abundant and best studied bird in N. America.
I	An amphibian.
J	Medium-sized rodent.

6. Perspective (or point of view) is an important part of how a story is told. From whose general perspective is the story told in these chapters?

Chapter One
Chapter Two

7. Why was the sandy strip such an ideal spot for the swan to build her nest?

8. A male swan is called a _____ whereas baby swans are called _____.
9. How did the swans think their nest was superior to an eagle's nest?

Language Activity

A. Personification is giving human qualities to something that is not human. Here's an example from Chapter Two: Warm air, soft and kind, blew through the trees.

Describe how the air is personified in this example.

Create your own example of personification.

B. Many authors enjoy using alliteration – a literary device where the author repeats the same sound at the beginning of several words. Here's one such example: from Chapter One “. . . their long white necks and black bills.” Using your imagination, create your own examples of alliteration from the following topics. Each example must contain a minimum of three words.

A frog leaping on to a lily pad.
The call of a Canada Goose.

Extension Activities

Storyboard

A storyboard is a series of pictures that tell about an important event in a story. A storyboard can tell the story of only one scene – or the entire novel. Complete the storyboard below illustrating the events described in Chapters 1 and 2 of The Trumpet of the Swan. You may wish to practice your drawings on a separate piece of paper.
